

THE LENTEN PILGRIMAGE

The way of the pilgrims, who sang today's psalm, could be just as difficult as Abraham's way to the Promised Land, or as the way of the Israelites through the desert.

And so can our faith journey, in Lent, but at other times as well: there might be greater temptations than chocolate on the way and greater challenges than getting up on a Sunday morning.

But according to Psalm 121 there is HELP on the way!

Second Sunday in Lent

Today's lessons:

- Genesis 12:1-4a God tells Abram (who will later be called Abraham) to leave everything behind and go to a land that God will show him. God will be with him on the way and bless him, and others through him.
- Psalm 121 This psalm was sung by pilgrims on their way to Jerusalem.
- Romans 4:1-5, 13-17 For Paul Abraham is a role model – not because of anything he did, but because of his complete trust in God alone.
- John 3:1-17 A Jewish leader named Nicodemus comes to Jesus. He is interested in Jesus' teachings, but it turns out he can't really understand him; nobody can but those who leave all their assumptions about Jesus behind.

Paul encourages Christians in their faith, using Abraham as an example:
